

How can I redirect notifications from my @eesti.ee mailbox to my regular e-mail address?

1. If you have never forwarded mail sent to your @eesti.ee mailbox before, then go to <https://www.eesti.ee/portaal/!postisysteem.suunamised> and log in.

Then, select 'E-mail' in the menu bar on the left and create an account. When you scroll to the end of the page, you will find a green box labelled 'Create an Account' (as can be seen on the image). If you click on this, you will create an account that the state can use for sending important notifications to you.

The screenshot shows the 'Creating an account' page on the eesti.ee website. The left-hand navigation menu has 'E-mail' highlighted with a red arrow. The main content area contains the title 'Creating an account' and several paragraphs of text explaining the service. At the bottom of the page, a green button labeled 'Create an account' is highlighted with a red box.

All state and local government authorities and other performers of public law functions can send all documents and notifications related to me or my companies to my e-mail addresses `personalidentificationcode@eesti.ee` or `registrycode@eesti.ee`. With forwarding my e-mail address `@eesti.ee`, I grant my consent for electronic delivery of documents, if the consent is required by the law.

By saving my mobile telephone number, I accept that state and local government authorities and other performers of public law functions may send notifications related to me or my company as SMS messages.

A document forwarded to my `@eesti.ee` e-mail address is considered received when I have logged into a web environment (for example `eesti.ee`, `e-toimik`, etc.) via a link sent by e-mail, SMS messaging or other electronic means and opened or downloaded the document there or forwarded it from the `eesti.ee` environment to another e-mail address.

By adopting the notification service of `eesti.ee`, I acknowledge that an electronically received document is not additionally delivered on paper. The consent is withdrawn upon cancellation of the forwarding of the `@eesti.ee` e-mail address and deletion of the mobile telephone from the `eesti.ee` environment.

3. This will take you to the '@eesti.ee settings' page, where you can add an e-mail account for redirecting e-mails sent to @eesti.ee.

After adding an e-mail address, such as firstname.lastname@gmail.com, an activation key is sent to that e-mail. Click on 'Activate'. Enter the activation key or code and click on 'Save'; any new notifications are forwarded to the e-mail account you just added. (See the image below.)
